ISSUES ADDRESSED

Presenting concern: "I have some issues with letting go of past traumatic experiences and the feelings surrounding them from when I was a young kid. I've tried traditional psychotherapy, which has helped a ton, but I am still looking to resolve complicated feelings around self-esteem, confidence, assertiveness, and generally to feel comfortable in my own skin. I have issues letting go and trusting people that are close to me. It still feels like my anxiety still runs the show sometimes, and I want to become more open and less hypervigilant."

Assessment: Anxiety and hypervigilance secondary to childhood abuse and abandonment by family members. Core wounds: abandonment, betrayal, shame. 69% Emotional suggestibility - delivery must use imagery, metaphors, permissive language. Client has psychotherapy foundation providing conscious insight. Subconscious patterns (trust, hypervigilance, self-esteem) remain active. EFT well-received - can be integrated into future sessions as grounding tool. Prognosis: good - client is motivated, open to process, and has existing therapeutic gains to build on.
