Flashbacks Relaxation

Begin with your favorite Induction and Deepener from Hypnotic World. NOTE

As you drift deeper down into this calm and comfortable feeling - you can be aware of my voice talking to you - you may also be aware of your own particular thoughts - and if you are - that's fine - because you don't need to listen to my words - for your subconscious mind will hear and understand everything that is said.

You may find some happy memories surfacing in your mind - and if you do then just allow yourself to enjoy them - because there is absolutely nothing at all that you need to do right now - except relax - and let go - so - relax - and let go.

I'm going to be talking to your subconscious mind about something that has been bothering you for a while now - and that is - the flashbacks that you have been experiencing about a very traumatic event that happened to you - or to someone else in your life.

These flashbacks and unhappy memories have been causing you grief - and whilst we can't change what happened in the past - what we can do is to change the way that you feel about what happened.

And it is because you know there is nothing that can now be done to undo the past - that you have decided to use your own mind power to help you to put that experience behind you - once and for all.

After all - dwelling on those memories isn't going to help anything - what is done - is done - and the only way forward is to accept that it cannot be changed.

Acceptance is the key to your own emotional recovery. Whether you feel there was something that could have been done to change it or not - the fact is that as people we are just human beings - and we do whatever we feel is the right thing to do at the time. Hindsight is a wonderful, useless thing in such situations - after all - wouldn't most people want to change unpleasant experiences if they could see beforehand what the consequences would be.

So here in the safety of hypnosis - I want you to repeat in your mind - I accept - I accept what happened - I accept that it cannot be changed - I accept myself.

Repeat these words in your mind - I accept - I accept what happened - I accept that it cannot be changed - I accept myself.

That's good - now - I wonder if you could imagine a screen in front of you. The screen is blank and white and you are the observer - watching the screen.

And as you rest here - watching this blank, white screen - I want you to imagine that you are stepping out of yourself and behind yourself - so that you are you - watching yourself - watching this blank, white screen.

And as you watch yourself watching the screen - I want the you that is in front of you to project that memory from the past that has been haunting you - onto the screen.

See the screen gradually coming to life - as the scenes that have been bothering you are re-enacted.

And I want you to know that you are very safe - for although you are watching yourself watching the screen - you are the you who is behind yourself - and you can observe this experience with a sense of detachment - it will not bother you at all - for you have already accepted that it happened and there is nothing that can be done to undo it.

I'll be quiet for a moment or two whilst you watch yourself watching the screen - and you will feel calm and relaxed the whole of the time.

Pause for a minute. PAUSE

Good - and now this event is over - so you can see the images on the screen fading away - once and for all.

And as they fade away - so does the screen - it moves further and further into the distance - away from you - becoming smaller - less significant - more distant - until it is a blob on the horizon and then disappears.

Now that the screen has faded away - I want you to move forward and reunite with the you who was watching the screen. Take with you all those feelings of calm and acceptance.

Tell yourself I accept - I accept what happened - I accept that it cannot be changed - I accept myself.

And as you are reunited with yourself those feelings of calm and acceptance grow stronger and stronger.

You feel peace within yourself - peace - calm and total acceptance.

And the flashbacks that you used to experience become more and more distant - they have lost their power over you because you accept what happened - you really do.

From now on you live for the present and the future - the past is gone - and it can no longer bother you.

You find yourself sleeping more easily at night - with restful, peaceful dreams - waking up refreshed and alert at your normal waking up time.

You begin to feel happier, calmer, more optimistic - you are smiling more - it's as though a weight has been lifted from you and you look forward to each and every day. You tell yourself - I accept - I accept what happened - I accept that it cannot be changed - I accept myself.

And these suggestions are firmly embedded in your subconscious mind and grow stronger and stronger day by day.

They grow stronger by the day - stronger by the hour - stronger by the minute.

And in a moment, I'm going to count the numbers from one to five and at the count of five, you will be wide awake - feeling already wonderfully invigorated - and ready to allow these suggestions to work for you.

One, two, three, four, five.

Eyes open - wide awake - mind and body returning to normality.